5 STEPS TO CAREER REINVENTION REVEALED IN NEW BOOK!

Who is Deborah Shane?

(www.trainwithshane.com/about-2)

Deborah Shane is a tenacious woman who has transitioned through several careers. She has transformed herself from a rockin' singer and published songwriter, teacher and award-winning broadcast radio sales professional into a gutsy author, speaker, radio host and nationally published expert. She now guides and motivates others through their career transitions, business development and professional empowerment.

About Career Transition: Make the Shift

(www.trainwithshane.com/book)

This story-how to book tells, in her own words Deborah's inspiring story, her common sense 5 step approach and process to change, and the valuable lessons she's learned. More importantly, she gives her readers the tools to guide them through their own career changes and reinvention. Through her Five Steps Deborah helps guide her readers to a place where they see things more clearly so they can and "make the shift."

In addition to Deborah's first-hand experience, other inspirational profiles of women who have reinvented, re-branded, and re-birthed themselves and their lives are featured including Tory Johnson, workplace contributor for ABC's Good Morning America and founder of WomenforHire.com, J.T. O'Donnell, founder of top blog Careerealism.com, and Maddy Dychtwald, author and founder of Age Wave, plus many more.

The book also offers lots of resources, including websites, blogs and books from some well-known top business and career experts. As the finishing touch, Deborah has created a FREE 30 page Career Action Book, a companion journal full of exercises and questions that will help her readers discover their passion and inspire them to their next career move.

Praise for Career Transition: Make the Shift

"Nobody cares as deeply as Deborah Shane. Get her on your side."

Tory Johnson, workplace contributor for ABC's Good Morning America and founder of WomenforHire.com

"Deborah's book is a comprehensive guide to career transition and reinvention, in a time of great change and shift. She draws on her own career evolution as well as the opportunity and influence women have now to step out and step up to having the career of their dreams!"

Maddy Dychtwald, author of "Influence: How Women's Soaring Economic Power Will Transform Our World for the Better," co-founder & senior vice president of Age Wave

"This 'take action' book approach inspired by true stories and experiences will help you look inside and out, dig deep and pull out the career path that you are truly passionate about and should be actively transitioning to or living every single day."
